Tynetec has a long tradition of developing innovative, market leading products that meet the needs of people in the community to enhance life and promote independent living. The Outstanding Growth award demonstrates just how important this winning formula is and gives everyone at Tynetec a real sense of achievement.

At the presentation in London Managing Director Tony Platten commented "As a company that has been trading for 30 years, achieving a growth award is quite something" and in commenting on the current economic climate he advised the more youthful companies present that "Having survived three previous recessions it is vitally important to continue investment in R & D through such difficult periods"
