

PRESS RELEASE2nd March 2009*Tynetec entered into Medilink UK National Awards

Back in December, Blyth based Tynetec triumphed at the annual Business for Life Awards organised by Cels, the organisation driving the growth of the healthcare sector in the North East.

The glittering awards ceremony was held at the Hilton Newcastle Gateshead on Thursday 4th December and brought together 320 of the region's leaders in the healthcare community.

Tynetec picked up the award for Outstanding Growth, sponsored by Sintons LLP, due to the success of the design and manufacture of social alarms, telecare sensors and access control systems.

Tynetec Chairman, Tony Platten is presented with the Outstanding Growth award from Anthony Evans of Sintons

Cels CEO Mike Asher added "Tynetec has shown consistent, sustainable and profitable growth within the sector. We are very proud to name Tynetec Ltd the winner of the Outstanding Growth Award 2008."

As winners, Tynetec have automatically been entered into the Medilink UK National Awards, which recognises the UK's most innovative healthcare companies. Three of last year's five regional winners tasted success at national level, walking away with top honours in their category.

The Medilink UK National Awards 2009 will take place on Monday 16th March at Haberdashers' Hall in London.