

Medical apps: Mainstreaming innovation

Programme includes:

- The coming changes to the European and US regulations
- Using apps to drive behaviour change
- The NHS mHealth app assessment process
- Linking digital health and big pharma

Date: Tuesday 4 April 2017
Venue: The Royal Society of Medicine
CPD: 6 credits

Learn about the uses and benefits of medical apps to improve patient outcomes and reduce costs within the health and care services

Online registration will close on Wednesday 29 March 2017:

RSM members: £50 - £115

Non members: £60 - £175

Register today: www.rsm.ac.uk/events/teh03

For more information, email: telemedicine@rsm.ac.uk

The ROYAL
SOCIETY of
MEDICINE

Digital health and insurance: A perfect partnership?

Explore how digital health and insurance companies can mutually benefit one another, and how health risks are assessed for those they insure.

Programme includes:

- Links between Wellness, digital health and insurance
- Telemedicine and digital health in emerging markets
- Pattern recognition in operational surgery data

Prices:

RSM members: £50 - £115

Non members: £60 - £175

Book your place online today:

www.rsm.ac.uk/events/teh04

For more information contact: telemedicine@rsm.ac.uk

Date:

Thursday
1 June 2017

Venue:

Royal Society of Medicine

CPD:

6 CPD

The ROYAL
SOCIETY of
MEDICINE